About Syllabus

Syllabus is a collaboratively produced alternative and independent learning programme that supports ten artists across ten months. Syllabus is led by Wysing Arts Centre, with consortium partners Eastside Projects (Birmingham), Spike Island (Bristol), Ps² (Belfast), New Art Exchange (Nottingham) and Studio Voltaire (associate partner) (London). Previous partners include Iniva (London), S1 Artspace (Sheffield), New Contemporaries (roaming) and NewBridge Project (Gateshead).

In 2021, Freelands Foundation agreed a landmark £500,000 grant to fund Syllabus as part of its multimillion-pound commitment to support the work of organisations addressing racial inequality in the arts. With this grant, the future of Syllabus is secure for the next ten years.

We relaunched Syllabus in June 2024 with a newly expanded programme, including bursaries for artists, access costs for artists, an online programme, an annual guest partner, robust evaluation and a dedicated Syllabus coordinator.

The key aims of Syllabus are:

- To provide professional and practice development and peer to peer learning opportunities to artists who are unable to access traditional post-graduate routes or who would benefit from an intensive period of practice development.
- To diversify the arts sector
- To provide a strong peer network for artists
- To create a meaningful network of arts organisations that work together to share learning and promote best practice with regards to equality and diversity

Established in 2015, and now about to begin its eighth programming year, Syllabus aims to reach artists with a range of practices and artistic approaches and bring together individuals from across the UK who have not yet (or not recently) had access to similar programmes. Through Syllabus we are particularly keen to support people who are currently underrepresented in the visual arts including artists with Global Ethnic Majority Heritage, those who have faced socio-economic barriers, artists who identify as LGBTQ+, and those with disabilities.

Each year's Syllabus programme is built around a series of co-produced intensive gatherings, which the ten selected artists attend. During the first retreat at Wysing, Syllabus artists, staff from the partner organisations, the Syllabus Coordinator and the Artist Advisor collaborate to identify broad themes for the programme. These form the starting point for an evolving, responsive curriculum that will support individual and collective artistic development and provide access to networks and knowledge across the ten months of the programme. Subsequent weekend gatherings are hosted at partner venues.

The Syllabus artists, Syllabus Coordinator and Artist Advisor work with individual organisations to shape each retreat, which in addition to responding to the interests of the Syllabus artists, reflects the research interests and specialisms and the location of the various partner organisations. Planned activities may include workshops led by the organisations' alumni artists; visits to local arts organisations, network events with local artists etc. Syllabus concludes with a final gathering at Wysing. Examples of gatherings can be viewed at: <http://www.wysingartscentre.org/archive/retreats/>

Between the gatherings, participating artists access an online programme of workshops, mentoring and crit sessions and discussions are continued remotely, with texts and reading lists uploaded onto a shared drive.

Syllabus VII will take place between June 2025 and March 2026, with planning and recruitment for the cohort of ten artists scheduled for Winter 2024/25.

The Role: Overview

The main responsibilities of the Artist Advisor are to support the cohort of ten Syllabus artists with programming advice, mentoring and facilitation. The Artist Advisor will work very closely with the Syllabus Coordinator throughout the programme but will offer a perspective from outside the partner organisations.

The Artist Advisor and Syllabus Coordinator will set the tone of each year's programme by planning the first introductory gathering at Wysing, facilitating planning sessions with the artists and contributing activity to the online programme and at future gatherings.

Following feedback from artists and Syllabus Partners, we have decided to restructure the programme, recruiting one Artist Advisor in an enhanced role rather than two Artist Advisors as in previous years.

The Artist Advisor will be engaged under "a contract personally to do work" for one year of the programme.

Wysing, and all Syllabus Partners, are committed to equity. We acknowledge that certain areas of society are not proportionally represented within the arts sector; we are doing what we can to correct this. We are committed to providing equal opportunities for everyone, regardless of their background. We welcome applications from all backgrounds including, but not limited to, those who identify as from marginalised backgrounds based on any protected characteristic including age, racialization, gender identity or sexuality, disability or long-term health condition, pregnancy, maternity or marital status, religion or belief, and class background or class identity.

About Wysing Arts Centre

Wysing Arts Centre leads the Syllabus programme.

"Wysing was founded with a utopian vision to create space for artists to live & work. Today it is ... pioneering an experimental approach to artistic practice, learning & curating." Louise Benson, Elephant Magazine, 2019

Wysing Arts Centre is a progressive organisation in a rural setting that was established in 1989. We enable artists and publics to engage their imagination freely and take creative risks; we believe that everybody has the right to time and space for creativity, away from the distractions of daily life.

The site is ten miles from Cambridge city. It holds 20 subsidised studios, accommodation for up to 80 visiting artists annually, recording and ceramics studios, flexible space to experiment, present and learn, fields, woodland, and several outdoor outworks. Work made at Wysing is seen worldwide. An accessible digital offer increases reach and archives our work; our youth programme empowers future generations.

Wysing invites artists from across the world to stay and reflect on their practice without the pressure of producing new work: time spent without a plan can often be when the best new ideas emerge. We take a proactive, intersectional approach to equity and inclusion, and often support artists who have not been well supported by mainstream gallery and funding systems. Several artists who have spent time at Wysing have gone on to be Turner-prize or Paul Hamlyn Award winners. Some artists go on to be commissioned by Wysing to make artworks, music and performance; many participate in Wysing's lively events.

Wysing engages people of all ages through artist-led workshops, events, online projects, gatherings and an alternative art school called The Syllabus. Our young people's programme has a focus on reaching people from rural areas. Wysing is currently building a youth council who will have decision-making powers in the organisation.

We are funded principally by Arts Council England through its National Portfolio scheme. Further funds are raised through Trusts, Foundations and via individual giving. Wysing recently received significant support from the Freelands Foundation to grow and deliver The Syllabus over the next decade. More can be discovered about Wysing's programme and history at wysingartscentre.org/ and wysingbroadcasts.art/

About Eastside Projects

Eastside Projects is an artist-run multiverse based in a free public gallery in Digbeth. We say multiverse because 'organisation' or 'space' are not enough. We mean that we imagine Eastside Projects as a process, as a place where multiple narratives and experiences coexist, where we make visible an evolving set of possible realities.

We commission artists, make art, think-in-public, curate exhibitions, programme events, work alongside communities, build relationships, create production facilities, support artists, produce public art projects, generate and apply research, develop talent, train artist-curators, and imagine new realities.

Eastside Projects is an evolving process. We believe in working alongside others towards change and do so to support Birmingham. Our programming aims to build active communities of interest who contribute and co-produce, rather than simply consume culture. Since 2008 we have brought world-class art to our city, now we want to build a constellation of collaborators who, with us, will explore and expand the role of the artist in public life & support our city and its citizens.

Together we make art.

About Spike Island

Spike Island is more than just a building; we're a public space where people can discover and connect with art, feel inspired, and learn something new or unexpected.

We celebrate the very best of international contemporary art in our museum-scale gallery spaces, while also supporting artists to develop, produce and present innovative work throughout their careers.

We want to make Bristol a great place to see and make art. That's why Spike Island provides a home to a community of over 70 artists, designers, makers, artist-led organisations and creative businesses, right in the heart of the city.

About New Art Exchange

New Art Exchange is a ground-breaking, award-winning and internationally recognised creative space in the heart of Hyson Green, Nottingham. We are dedicated to promoting excellence in culturally diverse contemporary arts through our exhibitions, events and engagement initiatives.

About Ps²

As an artist-led organisation, PS² fulfils two functions:

As a studio-resource and network provider, offering affordable, adequate and longer term working space for currently 10 professional artists and 3 one yearlong residency programmes for: curator/s; critical writing and a collective.

As an organiser and initiator of an engaged and year-round arts programme in our project space or at outside locations and neighbourhoods. Our project space is seen as an extension of the studios and offers an open, temporary workspace and showroom for invited or selected project artists, enabling encounters for the general public to see, enjoy and participate in.
